C. Russell Adams
Strongbow Inn
Valparaiso, Indiana

Russ Adams was introduced to the restaurant industry at a very young age. In 1940, His grandmother Bess Thrun opened the Strongbow Turkey Inn. A 29 seat restaurant that specialized in Turkey.

As the restaurant grew, so did the family. Russ's mother and father came into the business in the late 1950's to then buy the restaurant in 1968. Russ began on the farm raising turkeys at the age of 9 and was promoted to the restaurant bussing tables at the age of 11. He eventually worked his way to the kitchen at the ripe age of 15. It was while working in the kitchen he made the decision to become a chef. In 1978, with a degree from the Culinary Institute Of America, Russ returned to Strongbow Inn and became owner with his parents. In 1992, Russ and Nancy opened a new restaurant, Pastimes. In 1995 Russ and Nancy purchased the restaurant and completed a 11,000 sq ft addition to the banquet room. In 1999, the 60th Anniversary of Strongbow Inn was celebrated in style with over 1200 guests enjoying the festivities. One more addition of 6800 sq ft to accommodate the growing bakery was completed in 2002. Now, 69 years later, the tradition lives on, and hopefully the 4th generation to follow.

Russ has been active in the Indiana Restaurant Association since 1992 and served as President in 1999-2001. In May 2000 he was elected to the National Restaurant Association Board of Directors representing restaurateurs in the state of Indiana and was appointed chairman of the NRA Board's Programs and Services, the Marketing and Communications Committee and its Revenue Initiatives Task Force. In addition to being active in the Rotary Association, over which he presided as president in 2005, he has served in numerous community organizations as board member of the Valparaiso Chamber of Commerce, the Opportunity Enterprise, the First National Bank and was president of his church. He traveled on the John L. Hennessy Awards program in 2008, representing the NRA.

Linda L. Bacin
Vice President, Bella! Bacos
Immediate Past Chair of the Board of Trustees
National Restaurant Association Educational Foundation
Chicago, Illinois

Linda Bacin is the Vice President of Bella! Bacos, an Italian trattoria concept that was developed, as well as owned and operated, by she and husband Dan in the Chicago metropolitan area. Linda and Dan Bacin are well known for the Bacino's Pizza locations in the area since 1978 and a well known favorite as the number one selling stuffed spinach pizza at Taste of Chicago for the last twenty-five years.

Linda Bacin was elected to the National Restaurant Association Board of Directors in 1996 and for nine years held the position of an at-large voting member before becoming a Director Emeritus. She was elected to the National Restaurant Association Educational Foundation Board of Trustees in 1999. Ms. Bacin also remains an active participant in the Illinois Restaurant Association, having served as a board member and in the top leadership role as its board chairman.

Ms. Bacin has been a long time supporter of community and civic activism. The Chicago Mayor's Office of Special Events appointed her to the Taste of Chicago Committee, and the City of Chicago's Sister Cities program. Her credentials include service on the executive board of the Chicago Convention and Tourism Board, on the executive board of the Heart Association, on the board of the National Association of Women Business Owners, and on the board of the March of Dimes. She is a member of Les Dames d'Escoffier and in 1991 was named Pizza Person of the Year by the National Association of Pizza Operators. In addition to her civic activism, Ms. Bacin has testified before Congressional and Regulatory agency oversight committees on behalf of the restaurant industry.

Ted Burke
Co-owner, Managing Owner, Shadowbrook
Capitola, California

Like many college students, Ted Burke began his restaurant career as a waiter and bartender, delicately balancing work and studies. But, unlike most, in just a few short years, Ted advanced from part-time employee to co-owner of one of the most beautiful restaurants in California. He and partner Bob Munsey have since built the Shadowbrook and Crow's Nest into major Central Coast attractions.

Before entering college Ted studied as an exchange student at the National University in Mexico. As an undergraduate student he attended Santa Clara University, majoring in finance, and spent his senior year specializing in international business at the Universidad de las Américas in Mexico City. The following year he served in the U.S. Army Reserves before beginning his post-college education at the Monterey Institute for International Studies.

While attending language school in Monterey in preparation for further graduate studies in 1972, he was hired and trained as a summer waiter and bartender at Shadowbrook Restaurant ... and he never left. He served as a manager of the restaurant from 1973-78, when he and his partner, Bob Munsey, became co-owners of both the Shadowbrook and Crow's Nest restaurants. Ted is managing owner of the Shadowbrook, which has received numerous citations for its romantic atmosphere and excellent food, while Bob is managing owner of the Crow's Nest, which is a destination oceanfront restaurant known for its fine beef and seafood as well as its popular lounge.

Long an active civic and business leader, Ted is currently a member of the executive board and Treasurer of the Dominican Hospital Foundation in Santa Cruz as well as a board member of the National Restaurant Association in Washington D.C. He has also served as president of the California Restaurant Association, and served as chair of the powerful statewide Political Action Committee of the CRA as well as its Issues-PAC for nearly ten years. He is past president of the Santa Cruz County Conference & Visitors Council and former commissioner and Co-Chair of the California Travel and Tourism Commission.

His strong commitment to the local community earned him the Santa Cruz Industrial Education Council's "Outstanding Businessperson of the Year" award and the Santa Cruz Conference and Visitors Council's first "Award of Excellence". In 2001 the restaurant industry honored Ted for his many contributions to the restaurant industry and to those it serves by inducting him into the California Restaurant Association's "Hall of Fame". In 2004, the California Travel Industry Association (Cal-TIA) honored Ted as the very first recipient of its "Restaurateur of the Year" award. Locally, the Aptos Chamber of Commerce designated Ted and his business partner, Bob Munsey, in the millennium year of 2000 as "Men of the Century". Ted and Bob were also recognized by Rotary International and designated with its prestigious "Paul Harris Fellowship" in 2006.

Steve Geske
Senior Vice President - Food Service, Ventura Foods, LLC
Brea, California

Steve Geske is Senior Vice President of Foodservice at Ventura Foods, LLC. Steve began his foodservice career directly after graduating from the University of Illinois in 1976 with a Bachelor of Science degree from the College of Agriculture. Hailing from a small town in central Illinois, he grew up working in the family's agricultural based businesses. Those businesses included livestock transportation, custom meat packing and their primary business, Swiss Hill Farms Dairy, a Grade A dairy operation.

Upon graduation from the U of I, he began his professional career with the Hormel Foods Company. As his career advanced, he gained much experience and industry insight through his tenures with ConAgra's Armour Swift-Eckrich company, the Dorskocil Foodservice Company, Provimi Veal Corporation and, most currently, Ventura Foods, LLC.

Steve is responsible for Ventura Foods North American foodservice business. Ventura Foods purchases and processes over 2.2 billion pounds of oil per year and produces over 3.0 billion pounds of finished goods annually. Ventura Foods is an industry leader in multiple foodservice categories. Those categories include Salad Dressings, Sauces & Mayonnaise, Premium Shortening & Salad Oils, Margarines & Butter Blends, Pan and Grill shortenings, Pan Coatings and Flavor Bases. Some of the brands manufactured by Ventura include Marie's Dressings, Hidden Valley Dressings, Smart Balance Buttery Spread, Mel Fry Premium shortening, Phase LBA, Classic Gourmet Dressings & Bases as well as Ventura's complete Trans Fat Free Kitchen offering.

With 11 manufacturing factories and 3 corporate culinary centers located across the USA, Steve's foodservice team, supported by Ventura's Culinary/R&D team, is well positioned to help their clients succeed. Ventura is also a proud sponsor of the Culinary Institute of America!

Additionally, Ventura Foods sponsors the MenuMasters Awards Ceremony. The MenuMasters Awards Ceremony recognizes visionary and creative foodservice professionals in R&D, Culinary and Menu Development. Awards are given annually to those who enhance the value of foodservice to consumers with exciting industry building innovations and breakthrough ideas.

Steve's corporate responsibilities don't allow much spare time; however, his strong passion for the foodservice business keeps him consistently engaged at both the customer and industry level. He is an active member of International Foodservice Distributors Association, International Foodservice Manufacturers Association and Foodservice Sales and Marketing Association and speaks regularly at industry events.

Mike Gibbons
Chairman of the Board of Directors.

Jerry Thornton
Government Food Service Magazine
Long Island, New York

Jerry Thornton is Associate Publisher of Government Food Service Magazine, an Executive Business Media publication based in Westbury, Long Island, New York. In addition to Government Food Service, EBM's group of publications include Military Club & Hospitality, Exchange & Commissary News and Government Recreation & Fitness magazines. Their mission has been to use their trade journals to report on the segments within Government & Military that have the greatest impact upon the Quality of Life of the Service member.

Jerry provides leadership, editorial direction and marketing support for a number of the publications, but spends the largest portion of his time focused on the constantly changing world of Military food operations in Government Food Service magazine.

Mr. Thornton graduated from Cass Technical High School in Detroit, Michigan and went on to Wayne State University, also in Detroit. It was at that time that he first endeavored into the food business, working for Pepsico while going to classes. After a six year stint with Pepsi it was on to California where he was building soft drink factories for a firm known then as the PoP Shoppe. Travels with that company finally landed him in New York, and a position with ITT, owners of C&C Cola and Wonder Bread. It was in 1983 that he sought a change, and went to work for a small chain of pasta shops in New York City known as "Pasta and Cheese", running their commissary kitchen operation. He was convinced that the owner was onto an idea for retail products that had huge potential. He was right.

The company that was begun with an advance on a Master Card was sold to Nestle for $60 million, and became Contadina Fresh pasta and sauces. It was at that time that Jerry left manufacturing and operations, and went into the publishing business.

For the last 22 years, Mr. Thornton has been reporting on the enormous changes that have taken place within the Military market. The married father of three has a passion for all aspects of the food business.....retail, food service, sales, operations. He joins you today to help you recognize not just who you are, but what you can be.

Carmen Anthony Vacalebre
President/CEO, Carmen Anthony Restaurants
Waterbury, Connecticut

Carmen is a lifelong resident of the Waterbury, CT area. In 1966 he joined McDonald's, a growing national chain, which sent him off to college...and thus, armed with his degree in "Hamburgerology" from McDonald's Hamburger University, his career began.

In 1969, he opened his first independent fast food restaurant in Wolcott, Connecticut which he named Me-Ma's. In 1972, he opened a second Me-Ma's in Waterbury and eventually began to expand his company by becoming an Arby's franchisee building the company to 11 Arby's and 3 Me-Ma's. Me-Ma's, a Waterbury landmark, survived for over 30 years.

In May of 1996, Carmen realized a life long dream with the opening of his upscale restaurant, Carmen Anthony Steakhouse on Chase Avenue in Waterbury. His attention to detail and unwavering commitment to quality immediately established the steakhouse as one of Connecticut's most popular and successful restaurants, garnering awards and kudos from critics and customers alike. In just a few short years, Carmen Anthony Restaurant became a brand name in Connecticut.

Two years later, in the summer of 1998, Carmen Anthony Fishhouse opened in historic Woodbury, CT. Carmen Anthony Fishhouse of Avon opened in June of 1999 and Carmen Anthony Fishhouse of Wethersfield followed in June of 2000. His newest addition, Carmen Anthony Steakhouse of New Haven, opened in November, 2004. The Carmen Anthony name has added fame to Waterbury and the State of Connecticut with its upscale dining niche.

Listed below are just some of the accolades Carmen and his restaurant operations have received:

Arby's Accolades:

National Sales Achievement Award, Restaurant of the Year Award (For his Waterbury Arby's), Northeast Regional Leadership Award, Franchisee of the Month, "Founders Award" for T.J. Cinnamons Rolls, an Arby's subsidiary

Fine Dining Accolades:

Food Service Management Professional Accreditation FMP Certification, CT Restaurant Association – Restaurateur of the Year 1997, CT Restaurant Association – Industry Image Award 2002, Connecticut Magazine and Other Accolades, Waterbury Chamber of Commerce – Malcolm Baldrige Community Service Award 2004

Carmen is currently a Director for the National Restaurant Association Educational Foundation based in Chicago. He has served as a Director on the National Restaurant Association, Regional Director of the National Restaurant Association PAC, and an Exchange Director of the Canadian Restaurant Association. As a Director of the National Restaurant Association, Carmen has been Chairman of many committees including the By-Laws, Membership, Tourism, Research and Information Services, Marketing, Communications and Media and Executive Committees.

In 2003, Carmen was an evaluator for the Air Force Food Service Competition for the John L. Hennessy Awards Program. In September of 2007 Carmen also evaluated the Marine Corp Food Service Competition Program for the Major General P.T. Hill Awards Program. He has been the President of the (Air Force) Hennessy Travelers Association for the past six years.

Locally, Carmen is presently a Director for the Greater Waterbury Chamber of Commerce. Previously, he served as Chairman of the Board and President of the Connecticut Restaurant Association and had an integral role in developing a dual membership for the state and national association in Connecticut. Carmen has also served on many community boards which included Post College, Naugatuck Valley Development Council, Centerbank Realty, Advisory Board of Centerbank, Anderson Boys Club, the Hartford Visitors and Convention Bureau, and the Shubert Theater in New Haven. On a charitable level, he has been chairman of organizations such as American Cancer Society, Muscular Dystrophy Association, March of Dimes, Santa's Toy Fund and co-chaired St. Mary's Hospital Auxiliary "Recipes for Success Cake Bakeoff" fund raiser.

Carmen has modeled his life to having a "Five Star Attitude" and doing "What Ever It Takes". He instills in his employees that motto. For his guests, his motto is "Eat Well." -"Live Well".
